Dear Jam,

Jerry's note says he found the box of my books where you said they are not. Overloaded as you are, this is easy to understand.

But I am worried on several counts.

First, those books should be included in the archive and not be put on other shelves. Second, I need them now. It was by a misunderstanding of something I said when I was in the hospital and not conscious that they were taken from my office to begin with and I had no knowledge what they had been taken to your library until some time later.

I had given away just about all my other books to get the shelf space they had taken up so I could use that space in my current work.

So, will you please put all those assassination books with the material for the archive, where they should ultimately be, and I'll see if I can get anyone to bring them back here so I can use them in my current work.

Which depends on them.

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold
